I write to inform you about my decision to prohibit German Nazi Bank {1} and to expropriate its assets and property in consequence of committing serious crimes by its staff i.a. fraud, money laundering, sponsorship of terrorism and organized crime, human rights violation, because of that they deserve to be prosecuted in accordance with the Nuremberg principles of law. {2}

As stated in my letter addressed to officials of Luxembourg {3}, every local authority is obliged to implement my expropriation order by applying appropriate laws, i.a. antitrust laws, and to make expropriated criminal money immediately available for purposes specified in the Constitution of the Community Rus'.

The neglect of duty by obliged parties will result in institution of criminal proceedings against them for failure to act in a right and proper way. {4}
